ADVERTISING RESTRICTIONS

All advertisers must subscribe to the TAMS code of ethical standards. The editor is vested with the right to reject any offered advertising which he feels is not in keeping with the best objectives of TAMS. All advertisers must supply their own cuts or art work, unless other arrangements are made. All ads are priced on a CASH IN ADVANCE basis. Further information regarding advertising is available by writing to the editor.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Classified ads, up to a maximum limitation of 25 words, are free to all members. Only one free ad may be submitted by each member per issue. All free ads must be re-submitted each issue . . . no run 'til further notice ads allowed. Ads larger than 25 words are also accepted, providing the additional words are remitted for at the standing rate of 10-cents per word, per insertion.

MAIL BID ADS

It is recommended that closing dates in mail bid ads be set six weeks following the listed issue date in which it is to be inserted. While the Token and Medal Society endeavors to place issues in the hands of its members no later than two to three weeks following the issue date, it assumes, no responsibility to do so. All mail bids must include any rules that apply to the sale being held. The term "usual rules" is not acceptable.

FORT MACKINAC AND ITS TOKENS

Fort Mackinac located on Mackinac Island in the Straits of Mackinac, connects Lake Michigan with Lake Huron and separates the lower and upper peninsulas of the state of Michigan.

It was on Mackinac Island, according to the ancient Indian Legend of Creation, that Michi Manitow, the Great Spirit dwelt on earth and here he placed the red Adam and Eve.

The word Michi, spelled Missi by the French, means "great" and is the first part of the name of the Great River of the west, the Mississippi. Michi is also the derivation of the name of Michigan, the Land of Great Waters.

Fort Mackinac was built by the English in 1779 on a bluff over-looking a harbor on Mackinac Island to protect and control the early fur trade route, which ran southerly through the Straits to Lake Michigan to the Mississippi and on to New Orleans. It also protected the eastern route across Lake Huron, down the St. Lawrence and on to the sea. Both were of vast importance. Mackinac Island was the principal depository and shipping center of the fur trade during its golden years, 1780-1835.

by James J. Curto

Fort Mackinac reverted to United States control by treaty at the end of the Revolutionary War. It again fell to the British during the war of 1812, but returned to United States control by treaty in 1815.

Mackinac Island became the home of the renowned "American Fur Company", founded following the War of 1812 by John Jacob Astor, a penniless German immigrant who became America's first millionaire.

The Smithsonian Hard Times Tokens

by Cindy Grellman, TAMS LM. 71

My husband, Bob, and I recently attended the annual Early American Coppers convention in Washington, D.C. EAC is a club similar to TAMS, only dedicated to the study of U.S. large cents, half cents, and colonial coins. We attended last year's convention at Cocoa Beach, Florida, and we hoped to make it an annual event.

About one month prior to the convention, Bob received his catalog for the auction to be held in conjunction with the show. Other than a few British Condor tokens, the only thing that interested me was a note that Dr. Clain-Stefanelli, numismatic curator of the Smithsonian Institution, would be available to assist EAC members research early coppers. I had hoped for an opportunity to inventory their hard times tokens for about a year and a half, so decided this was my big chance.

Within a week I wrote to Dr. Clain-Stefanelli stating my request. I promised that if I were successful in getting to do the inventory, I would submit the results to the TAMS Journal for publication. The purpose was twofold: first, I wanted collectors to know the Low numbers and condition of the hard times token in the Smithsonian collection; second, someone might see the article and decide to donate a missing Low number or a higher grade piece to the Smithsonian.

Two weeks went by and I didn't hear anything, but I wasn't about to give up. I wrote a second letter, this one to Joe Kane. He was setting up the EAC convention and had made the original arrangements with Dr. Clain-Stefanelli. Five days later (two days before our flight to D.C.) I received a long distance call from Kane. The Smithsonian had received my letter and couldn't answer as they were very shorthanded. They apologized and set up an appointment for me.

Kane called me Thursday night after we arrived in D.C. He had a book listing all the coins, tokens, etc. that were transferred from the original mint collection to the Smithsonian in 1923. Would I like to see it? Ten minutes later there was a knock on the door and I had the book. There were 31 hard times tokens listed by verbal description only — no Low numbers and no grades, but the book was interesting and helpful.

After a good night's sleep and a hearty breakfast I gave Dr. Clain-Stefanelli's secretary a call. She was out, but a young man named Butch Vosloh said to come on over as they were expecting me. He warned they were three people shorthanded, and things were somewhat hectic as a result.

We caught a cab to the History and Technology building, checked in at the information booth and gave Voslah a call. While waiting we inspected the Eli Lilly gold collection. We had seen it before, but couldn't resist the second chance. After about 30 minutes of "gold-digging," we tried Vosloh again and he came down to get us.

We went upstairs to the offices and sat at a table with special lights and many shelves of reference materials all around. Vosloh disappeared, then reappeared with three 9-inch Whitman boxes of hard times tokens. We began to go through them, checking Low numbers and grading each piece. Progress was slow, but the conversation was enjoyable. Vosloh explained that Congress had given them two years to inventory all their stock. One year had passed and they were 3 percent finished. We wished them luck.

While we were inventorying the first two boxes, Dr. Clain-Stefenelli was walking briskly through the room with a worried look on his face. Vosloh explained that the doctor had a meeting at the Treasury Department in about an hour and wasn't completely prepared for the meeting due to their lack of employees. Dr. Clain-Stefanelli stopped at our table and asked how long we would be in town and how long it was going to take to finish up the third box. "Just one more day and about an hour," was our reply. They were obviously pressed for time and we both suspected he would either ask us to leave or hurry up and finish. Instead, Dr. Clain-Stefanelli went into an adjacent room and came back with a metal cart with nine more boxes of tokens. He saw we were serious collectors and experienced with attributions and he wanted us to stay and finish all the hard times tokens. It turns out he had been waiting for someone like us to come along. The Smithsonian just doesn't have any hard times token experts on their staff. We were honored, but doubtful we could finish.

As it turned out, the first three boxes we saw were their "first line" collection. In it they housed their best two specimens of each Low number. This being the case, it didn't take long for us to go through the other nine boxes. We did find a few upgrades and miscatalogued pieces, so our time was put to good use. Some of the pieces in both groups were from the original mint collection, as each had an appropriate reference on the back of the Kraft envelope in which it was stored. I was later able to trace many of these back to the pieces listed in the book I borrowed from Joe Kane. The whole effort took us about five hours. It was exhausting, but very enjoyable.

Now for the findings! Listed below are the two best specimens of each Low number in the Smithsonian collection. The donor and date of acquisition are included, when known.

Now that a listing of the Smithsonian hard times tokens is available I would like to encourage everyone to help them out. They do not bid on pieces in auction, but they will buy from a price list when items are offered for sale. Of course, donations are readily accepted at any time.

I would like to close by expressing my appreciation to all those who helped me with this project. These people include Joe Kane, Butch Vosloh, and Dr. Clain-Stefanelli. My husband Bob, was also a big help with the grading of the tokens. All grades are given are by strict EAC standards, using the number scale as outlined by Dr. William H. Sheldon in his book Penny Whimsey. This is the same scale used in the ANA Grading Guide.

POSTSCRIPT

According to Dr. Clain-Stefanelli, the Mint Collection was not transferred in 1924, but rather on June 13, 1923. He also recently located the Low 1. It was housed in an exhibit featuring recent additions to the collections. He says it is from the E.H. Robison collection and is in extremely fine condition. This information was sent to me in a letter from Dr. Clain-Stefanelli dated May 28, 1980.

FSC Newsletter?

Collectors interested in Food Stamp Change Tokens and Paper Scrip can send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Jerry Schimmel, P.O. Box 40888, San Francisco, CA 94140 and receive a free trial newsletter, 30 word ad, sample tokens. Subscription to the eight-page quarterly is only $3.85.

Collectors are urged to submit questions, information, clippings, mavericks to be identified (FOOD STAMP ONLY, please), or interesting samples to be Xeroxed. Issues will be mailed before July 10, October 10, January 10, and April 10.

Food Stamp items were issued primarily by small merchants in local communities, although large retail food chains used them in stores serving wide geographical areas as well. Tokens and scrip were given for change under $1.00 and came in denominations of 1¢, 2¢, 3¢, 5¢, 10¢, 25¢, and 50¢. Metal, plastic and paper were the most common materials used.

FOOD STAMP TOKENS

LOVE EM' OR HATE 'EM, THEY'RE HOT ITEMS TODAY!

Remember when Civil War tokens sold for 25¢ each? Remember when a $10 transit token sold for just that? Food stamp tokens will never be cheaper than they are right now.

Don't miss this opportunity to collect or accumulate some food stamp tokens for the future. The use of these has been officially suspended and thousands if not millions of them have been destroyed already.

We have available a retail list of about 2500 different sets from virtually all the states and United States territories and possessions. Send one dollar (refundable with any order) now for that list! Food stamp scrip coupons are available also.

Our newly revised and expanded reference list features some 800 titles covering tokens, medals, coins, paper money and other collectibles such as postcards and antique guns. Send $1 for that list (refundable with any order). Want lists serviced.

Our next auction will include many items of popular interest, from the mundane to the significant. Send $1.50 and receive the auction catalog and the prices realized afterwards, all by first class mail. Catalogs will be sent only to first class subscribers in the future: five sales for five dollars.

MERCHANT'S TOKENS

- G. BERETTA -

(COPIES)

3 Centavos, German Silver, obv. G. Beretta St. Thomas, 3 C Mexic, in center.

5 Centavos, German Silver, obv. EPROBITATE DECUS, GB in monogram. Small ST in monogram below.

10 Centavos, German Silver, obv. G. Beretta St. Thomas.

Most of the merchant's tokens in The Danish West Indies were issued between 1888 and 1892, when many foreign coins were circulating in the Islands. Since many Mexican silver pesos circulated in the Islands, it was necessary for the merchants to make change in coins which would not exceed exchange value of the Mexican pesos which was offered in payment. This need was filled by tokens, which were valued after the MEXICAN monetary System, thus preventing a loss to the SHOPKEEPER.

1861-1964 103th. ANNIVERSARY OF FIRM

HIBISCUS ALLEY . ORCHID ROW . JASMINE LANE

While vacationing in the Virgin Islands some years ago, we went off on a shopping tour of St. Thomas to look for tokens. One of the stops was Beretta's downtown department store, where we inquired about tokens but had no success.

Sitting outside the store was an elderly gentleman who overheard our conversation. "Did I hear you say you are looking for tokens?" he asked. I replied in the affirmative, and he said: "It is my lunch time now, so you have your lunch, come back, and I will have some tokens for you."

After lunch we hotfooted it back to the old man. He said his name was Beretta, that he owned the Beretta stores in St. Thomas, and that his great-grandfather used the original tokens in his store to make change in the 1880s. He thought he had some of the original tokens, but could not find them. He did present us with some cards and token copies that were issued for the stores' anniversary in 1964.

Each card contains three different tokens, exact replicas of those used in his grandfather's store. They were advertising souvenirs of the firm's 103rd anniversary. All are German silver.

Descriptions of token obverses follow:

3-centavos (17mm) — G. BERETTA ST. THOMAS and, in center, 3C / MEXIC; 5-Centavos (19mm) — same as above, except 5C; 10-centavos (21½mm) — same, except 10C. The common reverse proclaims: E PROBITATE DECUS / GB (in monogram), two small roses, and ST, in monogram. The three pieces are holed.

For the anniversary souvenir purpose, the tokens were attached, in vertical format, to the card, which bears the following information:

MERCHANT'S TOKENS — G. BERETTA — (COPIES) (There follows a description of token obverses.) Then: "Most of the merchant's tokens in The Danish West Indies were issued between 1888 and 1892, when many foreign coins were circulating in the islands. Since many Mexican silver pesos circulated in the islands, it was necessary for the merchants to make change in coins which would not exceed exchange value of the Mexican pesos which was offered in payment. This need was filled by tokens, which were valued after the MEXICAN monetary System, thus preventing loss to the SHOPKEEPER." (quotes added).

On the other side of the card — beneath a picture of native islanders — is printed: G. BERETTA SINCE 1861 House of Italian Imports Florentine Leather Venetian Beads Gold and Silver Filigree Italian Coral Gold Jewelry Venetian Glass China-Ceramics Wood Carvings Enamel Jewelry French Perfume Original Paintings Straw Goods in Beretta Center PHONE 774-2202 A Touch of the New in the Old Box 1391 1861-1964 103th. # FROM THE BOOKSHELF

Requests to borrow books or for Library information should be addressed to (Mrs.) Cheryl E. Maisch, TAMS Librarian, P.O. Box 1328, Auburn, Maine 04210. Please include your complete mailing address with zip code along with your TAMS membership number.

We are very fortunate to have many new additions to the Library due to the generosity of our members. The growth of the TAMS Library depends on these donations. We're very appreciative of these donations and hope they continue.

Summer has finally come to "vacationland". We're looking forward to a house full of company in the next couple of months. I apologize in advance for any delays this might cause.

We would like to express our thanks and appreciation to the following individuals and organizations for their recent donations: Stephen P. Alpert (A-30 and A-31), C.R. Clark (C-64), Charles V. Kappen (K-19a), Roland J. Mantovani (F-22 and F-49), Northwest Token and Medal Society (N-8 and N-8a), Civil War Token Society (C-23), Walter Caldwell (C-34), Canadian Association of Wooden Money Collectors (C-56), North Eastern Vecturist Association (N-10), Pacific Northwest Numismatic Association (P-8).

LIBRARY ADDITIONS

A-2 American Numismatic Association, THE NUMISMATIST, May and June 1980. The May issue includes "Beck's Public Baths" and "'What Is It' Identified" in Exonumia Notebook. The June issue features "Thomas L. Elder — A Catalogue of His Tokens and Medals" by Thomas K. DeLorey and "A Potpourri of Interesting Mavericks" in Exonumia Notebook by David Schenkman and Joseph Levine.

A-30 Alpert, Stephen P., LARGE LUCKY SOUVENIR COINS, 1979, 32 pages, illustrated. This is a preliminary attempt to catalogue large lucky and souvenir coins. Most pieces were originally sold as souvenirs — others were given out as gifts or distributed as a form of advertising.

A-31 Alpert, Stephen P. and Kenneth E. Smith, AMUSEMENT TOKENS OF THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA, 1979, illustrated, 136 pages. This catalogue includes tokens related to gambling machines, slot machines, pinball machines, penny arcades, juke boxes, pay telephones, bingo and many more — any token with the word Amusement on it. Also included is a Master Index listing all tokens included in the book.

C-23 Journal of the Civil War Token Society, THE COPPERHEAD COURIER, Summer 1980, Volume 14, Number 2, 27 pages. This issue includes a reprint from THE NUMISMATIC SCRAPBOOK MAGAZINE, July 1966 — "Price Analysis of Civil War Tokens" by Willard R. Mumford. Plus "Decision of CWTs: Which to Collect?", auction and society news.

C-34 Walter Caldwell, SCRIP TALK, Official Publication of the National Scrip Collectors Association, Volume 7, No. 71 and 72, May and July 1980. The May issue includes "Scripology" by Charles Ross. Both issues include large auctions and association news.

C-56 Canadian Association of Wooden Money Collectors, TIMBER TALK, Volume 6, Issues 4 and 5, April and May 1980. The April issue features "Why Don't They Print Wooden Money in Canada??" by Norman E. Wells and Check List Wooden Large Cents and Tokens — Canadian Large Cents Club 1975-1980. Both issues include new issues and association news.

C-64 Clark, C.R., FLORIDA TRADE TOKENS, First Edition 1980, 287 pages, illustrated. This book is a catalogue of approximately 2,800 Florida trade tokens used from the 1880s to 1979. Each token description is complete with the rarity indicated for all except the modern tokens of the past twenty years.

F-22 NUMISMATIC ISSUES OF THE FRANKLIN MINT, 1970 Edition, Covering the years 1965-1969. This is a additional copy recently donated to assure availability to TAMS members.

F-49 LIMITED EDITIONS OF THE FRANKLIN MINT, 1976 Edition, Covering Issues of the Year 1975, 280 pages. This book includes Coin of the Realm, Medallic Issues, Medallic Covers, Ingot Issues, Collector's Plates and others.

K-19a Kappen, Charles V., TOKEN AND TRADE COUPONS OF CARROLL COUNTY as appeared and included in "The Carroll County Historical Society Quarterly", Vol. XXIV, Winter 1979-1980, No. 4 (Carroll County, Arkansas) 8 pages, illustrated. This continuation from Issue No. 3 (K-19) lists an additional 32 tokens.

N-8 Northwest Token and Medal Society, TOTEM TOPICS, Volume 12, Number 1, March 1980. This issue features the conclusion of "Washington State Scrip" — Scrip from Spokane.

N-8a Northwest Token and Medal Society, "A TRIAL LISTING OF WASHINGTON STATE SCRIP", 1979. This work offers full size reproductions and some brief historical notes regarding origin and/or disposition.

N-10 NEVA NEWS, Official Publication of the North Eastern Vecturist Association, Volume 18, No. 95, May-June 1980. This issue includes Association news and ads.

P-8 PNNA News, Quarterly Publication of the Pacific Northwest Numismatic Association, 2nd Quarter 1980. This issue includes "Billingham Area Numismatics" plus Show Calendar and Association news.

FOR MONITOR AND MERRIMAC FANS

Collectors of tokens and medals relating to the Monitor and Merrimac, the first ironclads engaged in naval battle during the Civil War, will surely be interested in David Schenkman's recently published monograph on the subject. 24 pages, paper covers, 8½x11", profusely illustrated. In addition to a background history, more than 50 tokens and medals are described. This important addition to Civil War memorabilia may be obtained from the Virginia Numismatic Association, P.O. Box 353, Hampton, VA 23669. Price is $3.00 plus 50¢ postage.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE...

Printers end copy with a "30"; politicians call it "the last hurrah." Call it what you may, this will be my last column as President of TAMS. It is with a feeling of regret that I step down — regret because some of the things I had hoped to accomplish still have not been implemented; regret because I will no longer be able to share my thoughts concerning TAMS with the membership at large. For, as TAMS President, one is in a better position to feel the pulse of the membership and thus try to bring about improvements or simply right what is wrong. Except that it is not always simple, and many problems I've encountered as President have been very frustrating or difficult to solve. Like President Truman, I can truly say that "the buck stops here."

During my two years, a number of things have been accomplished, including the new membership badge, the Alaskan token book and most recently, the Code of Ethics. But for everything that has been completed, new work has arisen that calls for attention. Just as the Membership Directory published during my tenure was instituted by our previous President, Clifford Mishler, those problems and projects now under consideration which could not be brought to conclusion during my term, will be handled (capably, I'm sure) by my successor, Neil Harris. And, by the time he has completed two years of office, I image that new matters will have arisen which will have to be passed on to the next President. This indicates two things — a sense of continuity and the fact that with the growth of TAMS there has also been a corresponding growth of questions that require the attention of its officers. Just as U.S. presidential elections do not mean the end of everything accomplished or not accomplished by previous administrations, so it is with TAMS on a smaller scale. Differences in style, yes, but not the ultimate aims of what is good for our Society.

Enough of this valedictory. Let us consider a few things that are going on in the collecting world at large. As you know, the word "Exonumists" appears on the TAMS emblem. It was coined in 1960 by Russ Rulau to cover our field of collecting and has become widely accepted since then. But apparently not everyone knows how the word is spelled. For example, the recently published "The Collecting Book" by Ellen and Lewis Liman (Penguin Books, 1980) has a chapter on Philatelists, Numismatists and Exonoumiasts. How do you like that spelling? Not just once but several times.

In my December, 1978 column, I brought up the matter of having token and medal auction bids rise in 5¢ increments, rather than odd cents which must be time consuming for the auctioneer and irritating to the bidder who misses a lot by 1¢. I note at the other extreme are the auctions of NASCA, which requests that bids be in even dollar amounts. In my opinion, this may be alright for coins selling at $1,000 or more but for tokens and medals, the majority of which still bring low dollar and cents amounts, it is surely inflationary and works a hardship on collectors.

What's in a name? Hard Times Tokens in the second portion of the great Garrett collection (Johns Hopkins University) brought record prices even though many of the specimens were far from being the best examples. One simply has to attribute the prices obtained to their being in a "name" sale since one surely could have purchased most of the tokens from a dealer the day before the sale for much less. I don't know about now since the results will surely affect the prices of Hard Time Tokens in general. Remember when the common varieties cost 25¢?

Yes, "remember when" is an old refrain and one on which I will close this column. Right now, many 19th century tokens and medals are realizing prices unheard of ten years ago. In contrast, most recent tokens and medals go begging or bring low prices. Don't ignore them. A check of early auction catalogs will show that what have become high-priced tokens and medals in our time hardly paid for their listing when they were themselves fairly recent. The same thing is now being repeated with modern tokens and medals, the more interesting of which will likely become the darlings of 21st century collectors. To "cash in," I guess we either need longer lives or better foresight.

HIT THE JACKPOT

The recently organized Amusement Token Collectors Association (ATCA) will publish a bimonthly publication entitled THE JACKPOT the first issue to be off the presses in July. Initially the eight-page periodical will contain news, articles and ads on the collecting and history of tokens related to slot machines, pinball machines, amusement arcades, and other amusement and vending machines. Featured each issue will be several pages listing newly issued amusement tokens and also new discoveries of older amusement tokens. These sheets will supplement the recently published catalogue "Amusement Tokens of the United States and Canada" by Stephen P. Alpert and Kenneth E. Smith (the founders and organizers of ATCA).

Dues in the Amusement Token Collectors Association (which includes a subscription to THE JACKPOT) are $2.00 for the remainder of 1980. Charter membership will remain open through 1980. Send $2.00 dues, cash or check payable to Eleanor Smith (ATCA's secretary and treasurer), 328 Ave. F., Redondo Beach, CA 90277.

UTAH TOKENS

Harry F. Campbell announces that his book Campbell's Tokens of Utah is available. A result of six years of research, it will list all known Utah pieces.

To facilitate the identification and location of a particular piece, the book is divided into three sections. Part I deals with scrip and trade tokens. Part II covers wooden nickels and Part III the Utah mavericks.

Collectors interested in purchasing the book should send $29.95 (plus $1.00 for postage and handling) to: Harry F. Campbell, % Owl TV, 1385 West Indiana Ave., Salt Lake City, Utah 84104.

FORT MACKINAC

tion, and to set a fee system for the retirement of the said bonds and related costs.

It was here that tokens were initiated to help defray operating costs and in bond redemption. Admission of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children were issued for use in entrance turnstiles to the fort premises.

Tokens were made by the "Superior Stamp Co." of Detroit and as follows:

Obv: 50¢ ADULT TURNSTILE TOKEN/50¢/FORT MACKINAC
Rev: MACKINAC ISLAND/state seal of Michigan/ STATE PARK COMMISSION
Brass, 32mm
25¢ Similar, 26mm

Tokens were used from 1958 through 1962, providing admissions for approximately 800,000 visitors. They were replaced with tickets.

Restoration is nearing completion. Congratulations are in order for Eugene T. Peterson, Director of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission and his entire staff for the success of both the restoration and the financing programs.

Children's admission dropped in 1966. To date, no tax money has been used in the restoration or for operating expenses. Nor has the project received any State General Fund appropriation for any part of this historical program, a noteworthy accomplishment!

Acknowledgment:

My personal thanks are extended to the Commission and to Phil Porter, their Historian, for the help given me in the preparation of this account of Fort Mackinac and its tokens and their contribution to Michigan numismatic history.

At a meeting held January 29, 1884, in the mayor's office in Nauvoo, Illinois, it was moved and voted unanimously that "we will have an independent electoral ticket, and that Joseph Smith be a candidate for the next Presidency; and that we use all honorable means in our power to secure his election." (History of the Church, by Joseph Smith, Vol. 6, p. 188.)

Responding to that declaration, the Mormon Prophet remarked to those present at the informal political caucus: "If you attempt to accomplish this, you must send every man in the city who is able to speak in public throughout the land to electioneer and make stump speeches. Tell the people we have had Whig and Democratic Presidents long enough; we want a President of the United States. If I ever get into the presidential chair, I will protect the people in their rights and liberties. I will not electioneer for myself. There is oratory enough in the Church to carry me into the presidential chair the first slide." (Ibid., Vol. 6, p. 188.)

Smith publicly announced his candidacy on January 31, 1944. The next day the church paper, the Nauvoo Neighbor, concluded a long editorial, "Who Will Be Our Next President?", with the name of "General Joseph Smith." One week later the Prophet published his platform in the form of an eight-page pamphlet under the title, "General Smith's Views of the Powers and Policy of the United States." Thousands of those tracts came off the press, and hundreds were mailed to various leaders of the country.

General Smith's platform centered on national reform and getting back to the basic principles of the founding fathers. He contended that "government is for the convenience of the people, not the comfort of the cabinet." He would reduce Congress two-thirds, having two senators from each state and two representatives per million population. "Pay them two dollars a day and their board per diem (except Sundays)," he advocated, then added: "That is more than the farmer gets, and he lives honestly." The Prophet advocated prison reform. He would turn the "penitentiaries into seminaries of learning," contending that "rigor and seclusion will never do as much to reform the propensities of men as reason and friendship."

After purchasing the slaves from their owners with money obtained from the sale of public lands and the deduction of pay from members of Congress, he would set them free. "Break off the shackles from the poor black man, and hire him to labor like other human beings," recommended Smith, "for an hour of virtuous liberty on earth is worth a whole eternity of bondage." He advocated abolishing the practice in the army and navy of trying men by court-martial for desertion. "Make honor," he said, "the standard with all men. Be sure that good is rendered for evil in all cases." If a soldier deserted, Joseph believed, he should be sent his wages and should be told that "his country would never trust him again, he had forfeited his honor."

General Smith foresaw the need of a federal reserve banking system. "For the accommodation of the people in every state and territory," he urged, "let Congress show their wisdom by granting a national bank, with branches in each State and Territory." The net gain of the central bank would be applied to the national debt.

Territorial expansion was a hot issue in the campaign of 1844, and Joseph Smith was clearly an expansionist. The Prophet recommended that "when we have the red man's concent (sic), let the union spread from the east to the west sea; and if Texas petitions Congress to be adopted among the sons of liberty, give her the right hand of fellowship; and refuse not the same friendly grip to Canada and Mexico."

In his "Views on the Powers and Policy of the Government of the United States," Smith presented the idea that government exists for the good of the people: "In the United States the people are the government, and their united voice is the only sovereign that should rule. Wherefore, were I the president of the United States, by the voice of a virtuous people, I would honor the old paths of the venerated fathers of freedom; I would walk in the tracks of the illustrious patriots who carried the ark of the government upon their shoulders with an eye single to the glory of the people."

At a special meeting of "political missionaries" held April 9, 1844, Apostle Brigham Young made this statement: "It is now time to have a President of the United States. Elders will be sent to preach the Gospel and electioneer. We design to send Elders to all the different states to get up meetings and protracted meetings, and electioneer for Joseph to be the next President." (History of the Church, Vol 6, pp.322, 325.)

Robert Flanders stated that "the Mormans were serious about Smith's candidacy. Elders were to go on cam-

RELIGION AND POLITICS.

There are peculiar notions extant in relation to the propriety or impropriety of mixing religion with politics, many of which we consider to be wild and visionary. Having witnessed in the proceedings of some of our old European nations a policy that was dangerous, hurtful, and oppressive in the union of church and state, and seem in them an overgrown oligarchy, proud and arrogant, with a disposition to crush every thing that opposed its mandate, or will. We have looked with abhorence upon the monster, and shrink from the idea of introducing any thing that would in the least deprive us of our freedom, or reduce us to a state of religious vassalage. Living under a free republican form of government; sheltered by the rich foliage of the tree of liberty; breathing a pure atmosphere of religious toleration; and basking in the sunbeams of prosperity, we have felt jealous of our rights, and have been always fearful, lest some of those eastern blasts should cross the great Atlantic, wither our brightest hopes, nip the tree of liberty in the bud, and that our youthful republic should be prostrated and the funeral dirge be chanted in the "Land of the paigning missions to every state in the Union. The campaign was to be (quoting George Miller) 'the entire united effort of all the official members of the Church.' At no period had there been half so many elders in the vineyard in proportion to the number of members in the Church." (Nauvoo: Kingdom on the Mississippi, pp. 301, 302.) Hundreds of the most capable men in the church were sent out to work in the Prophet's interest throughout the Union. Nearly fifty conferences were organized in stategic places in all 26 states, with the final conference to be held September 7 through 15 in Washington, D.C. At least one of the Twelve Apostles was to attend each of these conferences, and members of the quorum were also to lobby for Smith's candidacy at the forthcoming Whig and Democratic conventions.

Amid the excitement of this active campaign there appeared a small copper token promoting Smith's candidacy. Presumably struck in Nauvoo, the piece bears the date 1844 and the words GEN. JOSEPH SMITH on one side. On the other side, encircling a five-pointed star, are the words FOR U.S. PRESIDENT. The existence of such a token certainly attests to the fact the members of the Mormon Church at the time took Joseph Smith's candidacy seriously. In the words of a Mormon author, Klaus J. Hansen: "In the privacy of the Council of Fifty, Smith clearly viewed his candidacy more seriously than in public. If Smith had not believed his election in 1844 to be a possibility, why did he enlist the entire manpower of the church in a quixotic venture?" (Quest for Empire,pp. 78-79.)

Apostle Willard Richards wrote the following in a letter dated June 20, 1884: "Your views about the nomination of General Smith for the Presidency are correct. We will gain popularity and external influence. But this is not all; we mean to elect him, and nothing shall be wanting on our part to accomplish it." (As quoted in Intimate Disciple, published by the Richards family association, p.418)

Ephraim Ingals, who visited Nauvoo during the spring of 1844 and spent about two weeks in Joseph's hotel, conversed frequently with the Prophet and wrote in his journal that Smith expressed belief that he would be elected. Told that most people outside of Nauvoo would not vote for him, Joseph replied: "The Lord will turn the hearts of the people." (Autobiography of Ephraim Ingals, Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society, Januaray, 1936, p.295)

Joseph Smith was assassinated before the election, making it impossible to say with certainty that he would have won. However, in retrospect, a victory would seem to have been very unlikely. In the words of a Mormon writer, Kenneth W. Godfrey: "It is highly probable that, in spite of the determined efforts of 'ordained' political campaigners, the Mormon leader would not have received a single electoral vote." (Brigham Young University Studies, Winter 1968, p. 212).

HARD TIMES TOKEN RESEARCH PROJECT

I am gathering information pertaining to the Hard Times token series, circa 1833-1844 as enumerated by Lyman H. Low, as well as related contemporary issues not chronicled in the Low reference. I welcome correspondence from anyone who possesses rare or unlisted varieties. My ultimate purpose is to publish a reference book on the field which will be profusely illustrated with high quality pictures and, even more important (in my opinion) will have a wealth of "association material" and ephemera associated with the original token issuers.

With the latter in mind, I am particularly desirous of obtaining illustrations of people who issued tokens, prints of buildings mentioned on tokens, catalogues of token issuers, and the like. For example, do any printed copies exist of Bucklin's Interest Tables or pertaining to his bookkeeping system? Are there photographs or prints in existence of the Centre Market (reference: Low 110)? What about products, catalogues, advertisements, and so on relating to Abraham Riker, the Roxbury Coaches, T.D. Seaman, the Bergen Iron Works, and so on? The possibilities are endless. Are any TAMS members aware of original structures mentioned on the tokens which may still exist today? You get the idea. So, if you can help I will be very, very grateful! No effort will be spared to make this a reference which will be a credit to the token-collecting fraternity, which will be an outstanding example of the printing art, and, perhaps most important, will be interesting and informative to read.

Please address your correspondence to my personal attention.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Rather than bury this in my President's Message, I have decided to make a separate announcement of two projects that will close out my term as TAMS President and which should be placed in effect during the coming months.

1. I have noted a considerable growth in the number of local token and medal groups. These state and local clubs fill a person-to-person need that cannot be met by TAMS, our national society, since we have only one annual meeting each year. Regional groups permit collectors to meet more frequently without having to travel long distances. In turn, TAMS serves as an umbrella and connecting link to token and medal clubs and to members through TAMS Journal just as the ANA does through The Numismatist for its member clubs.

To that end, I would like to ask that each local and regional token and medal club plus specialized groups such as collectors of bank tokens, send me information giving club name, year of organization, address which may be that of the secretary or other officer, date and time of meetings, number of members, dues, and any other data you wish to include. After assembling this information, it will be published in a directory in TAMS Journal. Please send by October 15 to Arlie Slabaugh, 1025 Crozer Lane, Springfield, PA 19064.

2. At the TAMS general meeting last year I mentioned the need for something to be done about the fakes that are plaguing the token and medal field. Since then I've discussed with various members the possibility of having a page devoted to fakes in each issue of TAMS Journal. In spite of the Hobby Protection Act, it seems that these knaves of collecting continue to appear. Therefore, a Committee Against Copies, Fakes and Fantasies is being appointed whose duty it will be to report such examples as have been noted for publication in TAMS Journal. Members in turn should report them to the committee. Since it may be awhile before this is in full operation, if you can't wait, you may send any data on suspected fakes to me and I will forward it to the committee for future publication. Clear black and white photographs should be included if possible. Do not send tokens or medals.

--Arlie Slabaugh

COAL CASH

The following bulletin of interest to collectors recently appeared in Scrip Talk, publication of the National Scrip Collectors Association.

"A coal token described as possibly the oldest metal coal token known changed hands at the Beckley, West Virginia, meeting of the national scrip collectors association for a price of $600.00! This unique piece represents, to my knowledge, the highest price ever recorded for a coal or mining token!!

"Token dealer Dave Schenkman of Maryland sold the item to a Virginia Collector during the Beckley meeting of collectors.

Scriptor Schenkman noted that the token was an embossed shell card described as follows: Obverse — "Crescent/Coal & Salt Co/10 Cents/West Columbia"

Reverse — "Redeemable/In/Mdse. Only/At The/Store Of The Co."

"Schenkman added that the token was not known to be an embossed shell card until he accidently dropped it one day and discovered a dull thud, unlike that of a regular token. A good examination indicated that two pieces of embossed brass had been joined with a rim with the center of the two pieces being filled with paper or cardboard. He added that embossed shell cards were made during the period of the 1860's to the 1870's thus the piece can be dated within this period.

"West Columbia was located in Mason County, West Virginia on the Ohio River, opposite Pomeroy, Ohio.

"Additional evidence to date the token before 1870 (when shell cards were last made) was obtained from the old Bradstreet Mercantile Listings for West Virginia. The 1870 issue lists a West Columbia Coal and Salt Company at West Columbia (was Crescent Coal & Salt a predecessor?). The 1882 lists a New Castle Coal & Salt Company at West Columbia and shows the town population at only 200. The 1912 and 1918 issues list no coal or salt company and shows a population of only 205.

"Now that this interesting token has surfaced, additional information on the company might become known. Any reader having comments on this piece is urged to share his information with "Scrip Talk" readers.

Collectors wanting to join, or who would like more information can write Walt Caldwell, Box 29, Fayetteville WV. Watt is the editor, publisher, typist and janitor.
